

Job Opportunity - Animal Services Officer

Flagler Humane Society and Animal Services

Flagler Humane Society and Animal Services is seeking a pro-active Animal Services Officer to work FULL time in Palm Coast, Florida.

The officer will work to maintain public health standards, making the community safe for people and animals. Officer will educate the public about animal safety. Officer will patrol areas looking for potential signs of distressed animals and respond to calls from citizens regarding stray animals and administer warnings or citations accordingly. Officer will catch and rescue animals. Officer will investigate and prosecute animal cruelty or neglect and be responsible for enforcing Florida State Statutes and local ordinances concerning the care and treatment of animals. Officer will assist shelter staff with animal care and will be on emergency night duty some evenings. Work involves mostly dogs and cats but includes all species.

Candidates must be a non-smoker, must have a minimum of a high school diploma and must have at least two years of experience working with animals. Additional education or experience a plus. Must have computer skills, animal handling skills and be able to physically perform all lifts and movements to accomplish the job. Candidates are required to pass a drug test and background check and must have Florida Driver's license with insurable driving record.

Salary will be commensurate with education and experience

To apply please submit resume via e-mail to: acarotenuto@flaglerhumanesociety.org

FHS is an equal opportunity employer